OUTLINES.

Former Governor D. C. Heyward, of South Carolina, and E. J. Watson, commissioner of immigration for South Carolina were in Washington yesterday and held a conference with President Roosevelt, Attorney General Bonaparte and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Straus touching the attitude of the Administration toward the movement to secure foreign immigration for the South; the President expressed his deep interest in the matter, the Attorney General explained his recent opinion, and a thorough understanding of the new law was arrived at; Commissioner Watson is on his way to Europe to confer with the German Lloyd Steamship Company about making its line to Charleston permanent.——In the trial of Harry K. Thaw, for the murder of Stanford White, the court in New York yesterday began the eighth week of its proceedings, the day was a loyal battle between District Attorney Jerome and Mr. Delmas, Thaw's leading counsel, the defendant's lawyer winning on almost every point of law; Judge Fitzgerald ruled with him and so far prevented the district attorney from assailing the story she told to the judge; the court held that the truth or falsity of her story is not material, the question being whether what she told Thaw about Stanford White, either true or false, was calculated to disorder the defendant's mind——In Chicago yesterday Mrs. Sophie Wambaugh stole $3,000 from her husband William Wambaugh who on Friday married her in court after stopping a case which he had against her for stealing another $3,000 while they were courting——At Metuchen yesterday, a locomotive exploded, killed three men, wrecked the train, set the wreck and depot on fire and pieces of the locomotive crashed into and set fire to two drug stores a couple of blocks away——The Japanese government has picked another flaw in the American treaty excluding Japanese immigration to the United States——Under a ruling of the Post-office department white and negro railway mail clerks must eat and sleep together——The National Ginners' Association reports that the cotton ginned to March 2nd is 12,716,000 bales, of which 607,000 is credited to North Carolina——Knoxville, Tenn., yesterday voted out saloons by a majority of 2,000——New York markets: Money, on call easier 3 1-2 to 5 per cent.; ruling rate 4 1-2, closing bid 3 1-2, offered at 4; spot cotton 10 points lower, closing steady at 11.35 cents, flour steady and quiet; wheat steady, No. 2 red 83-3-4 elevator; corn firm, No. 2, 57 1-2 elevator; oats steady, mixed 48; turpentine and rosin steady.

Concerning the tariff a Republican slogan was "Let well enough alone." Their efforts to fasten the ship subsidy on the people show that they really are not satisfied to "let well enough alone," but want still more of it.

Dr. Wylie now asserts that most of it sold for it isn't whiskey. Mighty hard, however, for him to persuade the bibulous brethren but what they have been investing in "something equally as good," as the druggist would say.

PRIMARY TOMORROW

Heated Muncipal Campaign Draws to Close With Both Sides Confident.

THE ODDS REMAIN EVEN

The eve of the Democratic municipal primary for the nomination of a candidate for Mayor and members of the Board of Aldermen finds the situation little changed and the betting odds even with plenty of offers and plenty of takers. The polls open tomorrow morning at sunrise and close at sunset. According to Turner's North Carolina Almanac the hours will be from 6:14 A. M. to 6:06 P. M. The polling places have been previously given and are well known to the voting public. Yesterday in spite of the heavy registration there were few challenges and the indications are that a very heavy vote will be polled in all the wards. Challenges, however, may be made on election day and it is said that not a few will be made then by both sides. The question will be one largely of payment of poll tax. The books have been very closely scanned in this regard and there will be workers in all the wards to look out for the interests of the various candidates. It is a forgone conclusion that in two or more of the wards there will be a second primary. There has been no change in the Aldermanic situation except that Mr. John Thomas has withdrawn in the Fifth ward. The candidates in the other wards are still up and doing and waging a relentless warfare.

According to law all the saloons will close this midnight and wil not open again until sunrise the day after the primary. If there are second primaries in the wards for Aldermen there may also be an order for the saloons to close on Friday also, while the second contest is being pulled off.

The candidates and their friends were very active again yesterday and last night. The greatest interest now is in the race for the Mayoralty and both sides express confidence. No ward is conceded by one side or the other and all agree that it is going to be too close for comfort. There are men willing and anxious to place their money that the majority will not be a hundred either way. This is the result of very careful examination of the registration books and personal canvasses of the wards by friends of the candidates. It is hard to talk anything else but politics on the streets downtown and in the two outlying wards. Partisans of both candidates are everywhere "whoopen it up" for one side or the other and it is the prediction of the active workers that the primary is going to be one of the hottest in years. Both sides have expressed themselves as in favor of a free and open vote, a fair count and no mud slinging and it is to be hoped that the ardor of their friends will not overstep the wishes of the principals in the contest.

POLICE COURT YESTERDAY

Mayor Waddell Able to Preside—Bad Negro Bound Over.

Mayor Waddell was able to be at the City Hall yesterday and presided over the police court for the first time since his recent severe illness. There were 15 cases all told, but only a few of them were of importance. VanMcKoy, a negro arrested by Officer C. I. Shepard for being drunk and disorderly Saturday night, was fined $10 and the costs. Joe Drake, arrested by Officer D. W. Coleman, was found not guilty of discharging firearms in the city limits, but was bound to the higher court for carrying a concealed weapon.

Will Smith, a negro who resisted arrest by Policeman Frank George Saturday night, snapping a pistol at the officer, was fined $10 and costs for firing a pistol in the city limits and was bound to the higher court in each of two cases for an assault with a deadly weapon and resisting arrest. In default of $100 bond in each case the negro went to jail.

LOCAL LEGISLATION

Bills Exempting New Hanover From Provisions of Law Relating to Proximity of Churches to Saloons—Primary Bill.

Half a dozen or more Wilmington saloon keepers affected by the law which passed the Legislature last week, prohibiting the sale of liquor within 200 feet of any church, school house or place of worship, and imposing a fine of $50 for each day such saloon continued in operation in violation of the law, were greatly disturbed Saturday and Sunday over the passage of the act, and immediately set to work to secure some relief which was obtained after numerous long distance messages to New Hanover's representatives in the Assembly yesterday morning. The relief obtained was in a supplementary act introduced in both houses and passed immediately excepting New Hanover and Martin counties, with, perhaps, others. The bill was introduced yesterday morning by Mr. Morton in the House and Mr. Stubbs in the Senate, with the result that the exemption clause was passed before dinner.

Under the terms of the law as it had passed last week a number of Wilmington saloons would have had to move at once or at least when their present licenses expire on July 1st. The places of worship that would have perhaps affected saloons in close proximity were Brooklyn Baptist and St. Matthew's Lutheran churches, on North Fourth street; Salvation Army Hall, in the old Court House building; the Seamen's Home at Front and Dock streets, and possibly the room occupied for worship by the Orthodox Jewish Church, in the old Masonic hall, on Market street. There has always been a law of similar import on the statute books, but the question of licensing saloons nearer than 200 feet has been left discretionary with the Board of Aldermen and County Commissioners. The rule followed by these boards heretofore has been that where the saloon was established first to license them, but in other cases to license no new saloons nearer than 200 feet.

Another bit of local legislation around which much interest revolved yesterday was what is known as the "primary bill," providing a new registration for the election to be held tomorrow, which was all innocent enough, but winding up was a provision making all city departmental officers elective by the people, notably chief of police and city attorney. Senator Bellamy and Mr. Morton could not agree on including members of the Board of Audit and Finance in the bill, and yesterday afternoon Mr. Bellamy in conversation over the 'phone with one of the interested parties in Wilmington, stated that he had decided to let the matter go by default. It had already passed the House, including such officers as Mr. Morton desired elected by the people, but upon disagreement in the Senate, Mr. Bellamy stated that he would not press the bill, and let it die on the calendar, which was done.

A FINE ATTRACTION.

"When Knighthood Was in Flower" Thursday Night at Academy.

Anna Day, as "Mary Tudor," in "When Knighthood Was in Flower," is not the conventional heroine of the romantic drama. Her's is a character full of contradictions, at times a perfect shrew, and then a woman of most lovable, now haughty as the princess and sister of a king should be, again as submissive and gentle as a child, proud as a woman can be, and then, finding her heart lost to a man beneath her station, though noble in character, giving it to him in all its fulness, and fighting for him with all the power of her passionate nature. In every phase of this tumultous nature Miss Day is brilliant and gradually tightens her hold on the sympathis of her audience, until they are hers entirely.. She is ably supported by Alfred Swenson as Charles Brandon, and a most capable company.

This attraction will be the notable offering at the Academy Thursday night, and seats will go on sale tomorrow morning.

In the list of the boards of directors for the various State institutions, named by Governor Glenn and confirmed by the Legislature on Saturday, appears the name of Mr. W. B. Cooper, of New Hanover, who is appointed one of the Directors of the A. & M. College at Raleigh, for a term of six years. E. M. Koonce, of Onslow, for three years, and O. L. Clark, of Bladen, for eight years, are other appointments on this board. Mr. Hugh MacRae is named a member of the Board of Directors of the State Geological Board for four years.

Arrested on Onslow Capias.

Charles Taylor, a white man of good appearance, was arrested here yesterday by Deputy Sheriff W. H. Cox, on a capias from the Clerk of the Superior Court of Onslow county, charged with non-payment of old costs, amounting to something over $30. Jailer Alex Lockamy, of Onslow, was in the city yesterday and took Taylor back with him yesterday afternoon. The young man is well thought of here and has friends who hope that he may settle up the costs without trouble.

FINISHED WITH SONG

ADJOURNMENT AT 5 P. M

"Conservatives" Won in Final Fight on Anti-Trust Bill, After Stormy Scenes in Both Houses. Bills Passed.

(By Southern Bell Telephone.)

Raleigh, N. C., March 11.—The General Assembly adjourned sine die this afternoon and members tonight are leaving on every train for their homes. It was 5 o'clock sharp when, with Senators and Representatives standing at their desks in each hall, the doors swung open so that the presiding officers faced each other across the corridor. President Winston, of the Senate, pronounced the words, declaring the Assembly adjourned without a day, the gavels respectively in the hands of Mr. Winston and Speaker Justice falling simultaneously.

A stormy scene had preceded the calm that prevailed at the hour of adjournment. There had come the final struggle between the Senate and the House over the incorporation of the Justice amendment in the Senate trust bill, the McLean substitute for the control of unlawful combinations. Earlier in the day the Senate had stricken from the bill the amendment for which Speaker Justice had made his sensational fight in the House Saturday night, it being almost exactly sub-section A of the Reid bill, which the Senate had persistently refused. The Senate had then sent the bill back to the House for concurrence, and on this Speaker Justice had taken the floor and denounced the Senate roundly for, as he charged, evading the issue and trying to drive the House from its position. He declared that he preferred no anti-trust bill to the one the Senate persisted in passing. He had a supplemental bill, which he said, if the Senate would pass, he would support the Senate bill. This gave powers to the Attorney General in connection with the prosecution of corporations violating anti-trust laws and re-adjusting other machinery of the McLean substitute. Then the House passed the anti-trust bill as it came from the Senate with the Justice supplemental bill attached. This was not, however, until after a fiery speech by Mr. Speaker Justice in which he asserted his bill would force a roll call vote in the Senate on the real anti-trust issue and he proposed to carry this roll call into the next Democratic State Convention. The anti-trust bill was ordered enrolled for ratification and the Justice supplemental bill was sent to the Senate, where it raised a veritable storm of indignation.

Senator McLean took the floor and denounced the course of Speaker Justice bitterly. He defied him to attempt to rule out of the Democratic party at the next convention the Senators who had voted for and stood by the substitute. He said the extent of the Speaker's capacity seemed to be the preparation of bills that involved an enlargement of the powers of the Attorney General, to which office he aspired, and even then he couldn't put his bill in correct English.

Mr. Fleming, of Pitt, offered a resolution to "treat with silent contempt" both the language and the supplemental bill of Speaker Justice.

In the meantime on the floor of the House, Speaker Justice had been recognized and asked permission to withdraw all the language he had used in regard to the attitude of the Senate and his threat to carry the roll call of the Senate on the bill into the State Democratic Convention. He said he had uttered these words in the heat of passion and desired to fully retract. A statement to this effect was made on the floor of the Senate thereafter by Senator Holt, of Guilford, and it was as oil poured on the troubled waters. The "silent contempt" feature of the Fleming resolution was eliminated. However, the Justice supplemental bill went to the table with a vim, and this settled the anti-trust legislation at this term for the conservative wing of the party. The McLean substitute becomes law, and controls, rather than drives trusts from the State. It was generally regarded that Mr. Justice's effort was to drive the American Tobacco Company from the State, which many of the members of the Assembly thought would be disastrous to the tobacco farming interests of the State.

There was a general jollification in both branches all day, and while one body was waiting on the other, members would indulge in song, which in many instances would be joined in by a large number of ladies, who graced the galleries. Freak bills also shared in the general amusement of the solons during their last day in Raleigh.

During the session 1,525 bills have been introduced and ratified, while 37 resolutions have been passed. This lacks just 29 of being 350 more than the last session, which was a record breaker. Probably nine-tenths of these bills are local in their nature.

—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will hold an important meeting at 11 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. this morning.

DAMAGES AWARDED

Supreme Court of South Carolina Sustains Judgement of Lower Court For $25,000 Damages in McManus vs. Seaboard.

The Supreme Court of South Carolina has affirmed the decision of the lower court, awarding $25,000 damages to the estate of the late Mrs. T. S. McManus, who was killed in the wreck of a Seaboard Air Line train at Catawba Junction, in that State, early in September. Of the decision of the higher court, The Columbia State says:

"The Supreme Court yesterday rendered a decision in the suit of J. O. Hull, administrator, against the Seaboard Air Line railway, in which the latter is assessed $25,000 for the death of Mrs. Annie McManus in September, 1904. The original suit was for $60,000 but the jury in the case awarded the estate $25,000 and this was affirmed by the higher court.

"Mrs. McManus was a resident of Wilmington, N. C., and was on her way to Atlanta.

"On the announcement of a verdict for $25,000 by the jury the railway company appealed on the ground that the judge erred in admitting certain testimony concerning the condition of the trestle and also on the ground that he erred in charging the jury as to what constituted negligence on the part of the road. Both grounds were overruled."

It will be recalled that Mrs. McManus was on the passenegr train that plunged through the trestle and that she was not injured in the first accident. A second train came along and not being flagged, it plunged through the trestle on the other train. It was then that Mrs. McManus was killed. She was groping near the back of the coach with some matches a gentleman had given her and was endeavoring to get out when another gentleman, whose wife was killed, came along and told Mrs. McManus of his desire to find his wife. Mrs. McManus had just given him the matches and in the performance of this kindly deed the other train came in upon the first wreck and she lost her life. Unless the railroad company takes an appeal to the United States Supreme Court, which is hardly possible now, the Seaboard will have to pay the money to the estate of Mrs. McManus, including her husband and children of this city.

SCHOONER HAS BEEN BEACHED

The schooner Stanley H. Minor, which was brought in off Frying Pan by the Wilmington tugs Blanche and Alexander Jones Saturday night, has been beached on Battery Island off Southport and she is being held pending the arrival of representatives of the owner ,Mr. E. L. Hoggart, of Baltimore. It is stated that the tug boat Isabel, Captain William St. George, was the first to reach the stranded vessel, Capt. St. George having boarded her. Captain Fullerton and his men claim that the vessel floated of her own accord after an anchor had been dropped and these are matters that will have to be determined in the settlement of the large salvage claim that will no doubt be made. The vessel is completely flooded with water and her cabin has been washed away, it is said. Captain C. D. Maffitt, the ship broker, went down to Southport Sunday to confer with Captain Fullerton. Members of the crew were brought to Wilmington where they will probably ship on other vessels in port.

There is no doubt that there will be a controversy between all parties concerned in the rescue of the Minor. The pilots claim they were the first were there as soon as the pilots. The to reach the stranded vessel, while the men on the Blanche say that they outcome of the case will be watched with interest.

SERMONS BY DR. NASH

Dr. L. L. Nash, who is assisting the pastor, Rev. W. L. Rexford, in a series of very successful revival meetings at Market Street M. E. Church was heard by two large congregations Sunday and again yesterday. The interest in the meetings seems to be growing and the congregations become larger almost with each service. The two sermons yesterday were of unusual power and last night at the evening service there were two conversions and a large number of penitents at the altar. The meetings continue throughout the week with services daily at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. All are invited at either or both of the services daily.

Attempt at Arson.

Last night between 10 and 11 o'clock an effort was made by some unknown party to burn the house of Lola Harriss, a white woman of questionable character on Eighth, between Church and Castle streets. Aobut the hour indicated some one discovered a blaze running up a corner of the house and gave the alarm to those on the inside. Investigation revealed the fact that kerosene oil had been poured under the house and on one corner so that the blaze burned rapidly. It was finally extinguished without the aid of the Department and the occurrence was reported to the police, who are making an investigation, though there is no clue.

LAST DAY SESSIONS

Morning and Afternoon Proceedings in Both the Senate and House.

NUMBER OF LOCAL BILLS

(By Southern Bell Telephone.)

Raleigh, N. C., March 11.—There were two sessions of both the House and Senate on this the last day of the North Carolina, General Assembly. The business of both houses was interspersed with fun and frivolity, the many spectators joining heartily in the merry making. Among the important bills that passed the Senate were:

Receiving $5,000 from the United States Government for Agricultural education under the act of Congress March 4th. It later passed the House and became law.

Extend limits of Wadesboro.

Adoption of conference committee report relative to serving process upon foreign corporations.

Senator Stubbs, of Martin, introduced a bill exempting New Hanover and his county from the operation of the law passed last week, prohibiting saloons within 200 feet of any church or school house. The bill was passed and sent immediately to the House. Beaufort, Pitt and Washington counties had also been exempted from the law but when they were read out in the House, there was objection and they were stricken out, exempting only New Hanover and Martin. Mr. Morton, of New Hanover, explained the situation at Wilmington and pleaded that his county and Martin be left out. This was granted and the bill became law.

The House took up the Gordon bill supplementing the salary bill of State officers and passed it with the provision that the salary of the Insurance Commissioner, State Treasurer, and Secretary of State be $3,500; also that the Attorney General be provided an assistant at $1,500 per year. A supplemental bill also passed both branches of the Assembly granting an increase of $250 per year in the salaries of Superior Court judges.

A bill passed to prohibit railroads from confiscating coal in the State.

Allow Governor $600 for necessary traveling expenses.

Require Clerk of the Corporation Commission to take the same oath as is required of members of the Commission.

To require railroads to keep toilet rooms in passenger coaches in cleanly sanitary condition.

The special investigating committee, which had in hearing the Simpson-Daniels undue influence matter, made a report, which would make three newspaper columns. It recited all the features of the inquiry and declared nothing was brought out in the evidence to in the least sustain the charge of undue influence upon the committee. There was every indication, the report charges, to show that the charges of undue influence were absolutely groundless. In regard to the refusal of Rev. Mr. Durham and Editor Simpson to testify, the committee said it would make no recommendation, leaving this entirely with the courts. The report was received and the committee was discharged with thanks for its faithful effort.

Mr. Winborne, of Hertford, a member of the conference committee upon which it was alleged aspersions had been cast, arose to a personal privilege. He said that he had found that Rev. Plato Durham had been correctly reported as reflecting upon the committee but he would refrain from any reference to him at this time as he was sure. Rev. Plato was suffering from hydrophobia from the bite of Editor Daniels. He would leave Mr. Durham to his conscience and his God.

The last personal privilege of the session was by Representative Taylor, Republican, of Brunswick. He took occasion to brand as false the editorial charges in the News and Observer Sunday morning that Republican members had lined up to a man to the support and defence of the trusts, following a banquet that the Republicans had held Friday night. He said many of the Republican members were not in the hall Saturday night when the trust bill came up and as for himself he voted for the Justice amendment and had previously voted for the Winborne trust bill. He said the editor of the News and Observer was in the hall Saturday night and in his paper the same morning as the editorial was published, printed the roll call vote on the measure and the editor must have known the facts when he published the false editorial in the same issue.

The House passed the bill to pay the outstanding Western North Carolina Construction bonds. This was later, however, tabled in the Senate.

—The special car that has been operated on the suburban line to the Golf Grounds and Winter Park will run only as far as the Golf Grounds. This change will go into effect today. The change is made necessary by the work of filling in for the crossing over the Coast Line tracks, which is now going on.

ANOTHER DOSE OF EVELYN'S CAREER.

It had been hoped that after Evelyn Nesbit Thaw had told her shocking "life story" and been subjected to cross-examination, the worst was over in the trial of Harry K. Thaw in New York. However, it seems that we are to have more of it. District Attorney Jerome has changed his tactics or else has had something else up his sleeve. Yesterday began the eighth week of the trial, and from all accounts the District Attorney has made up his mind to dig further into the life of Thaw's chorus girl wife, and it is quite likely that he has on hand several ugly things in the girl's career which he has not sprung yet. He will probably spring them on an already disgusted public this week.

District Attorney Jerome's determination to dig further is likely to bring exposure to several men who have been laying low for fear of being dragged into the case—that is so far as their relations with Evelyn Nesbit is concerned.

The Brooklyn Citizen on Sunday states that a game of hide and seek played on a large scale was the sensational development Saturday night. Two score men were the players in this game and the object of the pursued was to avoid a summons to court this week as witnesses in the noted case.

Late Saturday afternoon a score of subpoena servers were sent out by District Attorney Jerome, in the search for new witnesses, pursuant to a change of plans on the part of the prosecutor. The process-servers were instructed to find every person whose name was whispered to District Attorney Jerome by Evelyn Nesbit Thaw during the time she was on the witness stand, if they are now within the jurisdicition of the court.

News of this move on the part of the District Attorney became noised abroad, and there was an exodus from the city of men whose names appear on the records of the case, although they have not been made public, to avoid being served. Some sought refuge by a retreat from their homes, and keeping away from their usual haunts. One by one the persons sought were hunted down, however, until all but a few of those wanted had been subpoenaed. It was only with the greatest difficulty, however, that some of the subpoenas were served.

District Attorney Jerome's act in subpoenaing these witnesses has put an entirely new face on the trial. Announcement from the District Attorney's office that it will probably take ten court days for Mr. Jerome to finish his rebuttal testimony throws some light on the prosecutor's plans. It is known now that Jerome purposes to delve deep into Evelyn Thaw's testimony, and, if possible, show up many points in which her story deviated from the truth.

Men and women who were mentioned by Evelyn Thaw as participants in some of the revels of her life in her direct testimony will be asked by Jerome to tell their side of the stories related by Evelyn with a view of discrediting her. Not a person who can help in this campaign to impeach the young wife will be allowed to escape going on the stand unless Jerome again changes his plans.

Another promising line of investigation opened up for the prosecutor Saturday developed through the receipt by Jerome of another message from Craig Wadsworth, second secretary of the American embassy in London, which is said to contain some startling revelations about Thaw, his wife and Mrs. Holman, Evelyn's mother, during the memorable visit to London in 1903. Wadsworth, it is stated, furnished the District Attorney with much valuable information. Subpoena servers were rushed out following the receipt of the message to serve several persons mentioned by Wadsworth as likely to be able to furnish valuable information as to the Thaws.

This all means that, if the District Attorneys goes on into the life of the former chorus girl, she will have to face another terrible ordeal. Spare us!

CHARLESTON IMMIGRATION STATION.

As Congress has made Charleston one of the three Southern immigrant stations, North Carolina must look for her immigrants through that port. Referring to this matter the Charleston News and Courier says:

"The United States Government will build an Immigration station at Charleston thanks to the vigilance of Congressman Legare. The bill provides that such a station shall be built here at a cost of $70,000 upon a site to be furnished the Government without expense to the Government. The building of this station will go far toward making the German Lloyd line permament at this port, and will be of immense advantage to the immigration authorities of this State in the prosecution of their work. It will also aid in making Charleston the distributing point for immigrants destined for all of the South Atlantic States. The determination of the Southern Railway to aid in the development of the immigration business here will materially increase the importance of this station, and will assure to Charleston enlarged commercial opportunities that will inure to its benefit and to the advantage of all the South Atlantic country."

The three immigrant stations established by act of Congress are Charleston, New Orleans and Galveston. The Atlantic States will have to do their immigration business through the South Carolina port; the middle South will use New Orleans, and the Southwest will have Galveston.

WHY PERKINS COUGHED UP

The Savannah News discussing a remarkable and interesting incident of very recent date, says:

'There is speculation as to why Mr. G. W. Perkins, after a favorable decision, made restitution to the New York Life Insurance Company of the $50,000 which he, as vice president of that company, had contributed to the Republican campaign fund in 1904. One of Mr. Hearst's papers says that the reason is that Mr. Perkins wanted to stave off or stop any possible digging into the contract of the International Merchantile Marine Company, of which he is American manager with the Postoffice Department. Mr. Hearst's paper says that Perkins gave the campaign contribution of $50,000 to George B. Cortelyou, then both chairman of the Republican National Committee and Postmaster General, and that Cortelyou gave him in return a mail contract for his Mercantile Marine Company that would yield a net profit of $5,000,000 in ten years. The other New York papers do not give that reason, however, They don't give any reason. Hence, the speculation as to why Mr. Perkins made restitution goes on."

If there is any truth in the alleged reasons why Perkins "coughed up" the whole truth ought to be brought out. If Perkins is not really trying to cover up that $5,000,000 deal, the thrift of fellows like Perkins from their business with the government shows why it is to their interest to subscribe thousands of dollars to the Republican campaign fund, and even to take $50,000 of the money of an insurance company to help out their interest.

It should be noted, however, that Cortelyou was not Postmaster General at the time of the $50,000 contribution, but was ecretary of Labor and Commerce, a position which better enabled him to pull the leg of the corporations and trusts.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—"I am willing to tell all I know," declared Mr. Harriman before taking the witness stand. Then Mr. Harriman hastily accumulated a vast volume of ignorance.—The Commoner.

—King Edward clearly overlooked his opportunity when he omitted from his "speech from the throne" all reference to press censorship, designs upon coins, race suicide and the strenous life.—The Commoner.

—If popular nomination for United States Senators become general, there are a lot of men in the Senate at present who will not be defated for re-election. They won't run.—Philadelphia North American.

—Senator Smoot, of Utah, is a millionaire as well as a Mormon; but the United States Senate generously voted $15,000 to reimburse him for the extra expense to which he was subjected by reason of the protracted effort to expel him. This appropriation may be in accordance with custom and justice, but it will be viewed with suspicion by thousands of women who participated in the fight against him. As a matter of fact, however, the whole anti-Smoot crusade was premature and originated mainly in the popular conviction that he was a polygamist.—Troy (N. Y.) Press (Dem.)

—The State is to make another experiment with moose in the Adirondacks. Arrangements are being made with the Government of Canada to capture several moose and transport them to this country. As soon as warm weather comes the transfer will be made. Whether the moose will thrive in the Adirondacks under modern conditions is a question. The moose were put in a few years ago. Some say they traveled north until they reached the Canadian woods. Perhaps they were shot by hunters or in self-defense, for a moose that has been in captivity, as these had, is not a welcome stranger to meet in the woods. Indeed, it is doubtful if, with so many people in the Adirondacks nowadays, it is desirable to cultivate game that is dangerous to human beings. The State's colonies of beaver are doing well, and so are the 300 or 400 elk in the northern counties.—Rome Sentinel (Dem.)

—The lumbermen of the United States pay in freights to the railroads the enormous sum of $400,000,000 a year," said Mr. Walter Willard Ross, general counsel for the National Association of Wholesale Dealers in Lumber. One big item of expense that they shoulder is the cost of the upright wooden stakes which confine the loads of lumber on freight cars. This amounts yearly to not less than $7,000,000. It is an imposition on the shippers that the railway companies should make them pay the cost of these stakes, for they ought really to be a part of the equipment of the cars. I am here as counsel to represent to the Interstate Commerce Commission the justice of our demand that the railroads should be made to furnish all the apparatus and equipment of the dealers. There is no excuse for the transportation companies not supplying their cars with adjustable steel stakes, which will protect the lumber from falling from the cars in transit.—Washington Herald.

DON'T IXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Wilmington Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys.

If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act, and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Wilmington. Follow the advice of a Wilmington citizen and be cured yourself.

B. R. King, the well known policeman, residing at 706 Wooster street, says: "I had terrible pain in my back which worked around to my side and in my stomach, so bad at times that it laid me up. I used internal medicines, and they did not help me. I put on plastehs and rubbed with liniment and none of them helped me. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended, I got a box of them at Bellamy's drug store. The next day after commncieng to use them I noticed relief. Since using two boxes of them I have not had an ache or pain in my back. It is with pleasure that I add my name to those endorsing the claims made for this remedy."

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Mansell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '10, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead—in 10 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as anyone could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

IT'S IN THE DRAFT.

The secret of the fuel-saving qualities of this Buck's hot blast heater lies in the draft construction. It is so made as to allow large quantities of heated air to pass over the upper surface of the burning coal, thus supplying oxygen to the rising gasses, which are then converted into heating power.

Simple, isn't it? And yet it's new principle in stove building—not to be found elsewhere.

This stove will reduce your coal bill nearly one-third.

Let us tell your of its many advantages.

CAROLINA PLACE TO THE FRONT

We are glad to make the important announcement to the Home Builders and Realty Investors of Wilmington that a good is now fully assured. The work is being pushed to a finish and this most desirable attainment will soon be a fixed fact.

Considering the congested state of the city proper, there being virtually no houses for rent; the fact that the city's trend of substantial growth must be in this direction only, and that early building operations are now contemplated by many of the present lot owners, it does not require great business shrewdness to see that a great advancement in lot values will accompany the music of the saw and hammer.

The American Suburban Corporation

Will give to the head of the family of the first six who will commence bnilding in Carolina Place in two months and complete in five months, a round trip ticket for each working day in the year following the completion of the building.

We have some TWO HUNDRED (200) LOTS YET TO OFFER (most of them very desirable,) and notwithstanding the assurance of a street car service, in addition to our other guarantees as to improvements and healthy restrictions, which are well known in this locality, we are offering these lots at very low prices, and on our usual easy terms:

$10 Cash and $5 to $7.50 Per Month. No Interest, No Tax; No Negroes, No Shax.

Our Sales Agents are here this week to give prompt attention to your orders and inquiries. Do not fail to secure one or more good lots at once. Delays are dangerous.

RUNNING EXERCISE.

Said to Be the Best Means of Making the Heart Strong.

The kind of exercise one should take for his heart's sake is extremely important. Exercise, to affect the heart sufficiently, must be vigorous, though not too vigorous. Ordinary walking, while healthful, falls short of this requirement. That calisthenics and light exercises generally are also deficient in this respect is proved by the fact that, while all humankind naturally indulge in light exercises, yet heart ailments are prevalent among them. Every one that is not bedridden walks more or less, and I have read learned articles which try to prove that walking is the only exercise man requires. But if a man never runs he could not, if he would, run fairly fast even half a mile. So the argument is in effect that a man need not be able to run. I cannot agree with this conclusion, for walking at a moderate pace affects heart action only slightly.

Running, of all exercises for the heart, is, I think, the best. Of course one who has a weak heart cannot immediately run either fast or far, nor is it necessary for the average individual to learn to run great distances at a high speed, but every one owes it to his health to be able to run without distress, say half a mile at a fair pace. Let him begin by jogging one-eighth or one-quarter of a mile, then half a mile, which distance he may ultimately run reasonably fast.—G. Elliot Flint in Outing Magazine.

Atonic Dyspepsia.

The ultimate cause of atonic dyspepsia is constitutional depression. It may be due to overwork, and especially to prolonged worry. Sometimes the dyspepsia is the first manifestation of tubercular poisoning. Again, there seems to be an inherent failure of the digestive organs. Once established, dyspepsia is, in turn, the cause of loss of strength, of mental inertia and visceral weakness. Some degree of simple anaemia is almost inevitable. The exciting cause may be an illness of any kind, the excessive use of tea, coffee or other beverages, the lack of proper food, some error in habits of eating. Often it is not discoverable.

Orange Blossoms.

Much uncertainty exists as to why the orange blossom has been so much worn by brides, but the general opinion seems to be that it was adopted as an emblem of fruitfulness. According to some authorities, the practice has been derived from the Saracens, among whom the orange blossom was regarded as a symbol of a prosperous marriage, a circumstance which is partly to be accounted for by the fact that in the east the orange tree bears ripe fruit and blossoms at the same time.

THE BROWN RECITAL

Delightful Affair Last Night in First Baptist Church.

The devotees of music in the city were delighted last night with the recital in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church by Prof. Wade R. Brown and Mrs. Brown, of the Baptist Female University at Raleigh. The programme as published in Sunday morning's paper was carried out, and all were charmed with the recital by the gifted organist and his accomplished wife. A silver collection was taken after the service, and a neat sum was realized for the use of the State Choral Society.

Mrs. Brown has a magnificent voice and simply entranced her hearers with her delightful rendition during the recital. Mr. Brown, as an organist, is perhaps without a peer in North Carolina. Nothing but the most favorable criticism was heard from the upwards of 1,200 persons who heard him. The amount realized from the recital was $101.85.

—The schooner John R. Fell, Capt. Loveland, put into Southport Sunday for harbor. She is bound from New York to Charleston, and has proceeded.

—Alex Waddell, a 13-year-old boy, was brought over from Brunswick county yesterday and sent out to the hospital, where three fingers that had been mashed in some machinery were amputated.

—Chairman Woodus Kellum authorizes the addition of the name of Mr. T. G. Landen to the list of candidates for Aldermen who have paid their primary assessment to the Democratic City Executive Committee.

—The schooner Herbert D. Maxwell, 640 tons, Capt. Quillin, arrived in port late yesterday afternoon with a cargo of cement from Hoboken, N. J., for interior points. The big four-masted schooner Perry Setzer, 1,268 tons, Capt. Blake, arrived during the day from Carteret, N. J., with a cargo of acid phosphate for the Pocomoke Guano Company. The Setzer is one of the larger sailing vessels that trade at this port, having nearly the capacity of a steamship. Both vessels are consigned to C. D. Maffitt.

—A large half-page advertisement in this morning's paper notes a revival in the development of Carolina Place. With the extension of the trolley line to this beautiful suburb, which is an assured fact this Spring, there promises to be a great boom in this property and a large number of residences will soon go up. Mr. S. L. Pender, one of the officers of the corporation, and Messrs. T. R. Ramsey, R. Y. Zachary, C. D. Brumley, N. C. Raymond and W. E. Wilcox, solicitors, arrived yesterday, and there will be another sale. The proposition they bring this time is well worth investigating.

Bellamy for Governor and Taylor for Second Place Mentioned.

Mr. H. E. C. Bryant, the well known staff correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, writing a political story from Raleigh on Sunday upon the eve of the adjournment of the Legislature when the political clans of the State are wont to foregather there, foresees two factions in the Democratic party at the next State convention, the conservatives and radicals, and discusses interestingly the possibilities in the way of candidates. For Governor are mentioned Locke Craig, R. N. Page, E. F. Aydlett, Fred A. Woodard, Ashley Horne, Francis D. Winston, John D. Bellamy and W. W. Kitchin. Mr. Bryant says that the friends of Col. Walker Taylor, of New Hanover, would like to see his name second place on the next State ticket. State Senator C. A. Webb, of Asheville, may be brought out for the same honor, he says.

Assisting Dr. McClure With Services at St. Andrew's Church.

Rev. Russell Cecil, D. D., pastor of the Moses Hoge Church, Richmond, Va., is in the city, a guest of the Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., whom he is assisting this week in a series of services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Dr. Cecil is one of the most gifted divines in the South and the public is invited to hear him this week at St. Andrew's. The services will be each afternoon at 4 o'clock and in the evenings at 8 o'clock. The first of the services was held last night and Dr. Cecil made a splendid impression upon the congregation.

Southside Baptist Sunday School.

At the close of Southside Baptist Sunday School Sabbath afternoon, a number of the children, led by the superintendent, Mr. R. B. Moore, gave the congregation assembled for the occasion much valuable information concerning foreign missions. This was in a programme of recitations and songs, which was greatly enjoyed. A solo by Miss Annie Simon was especially pleasing, while there was regret that serious illness in the family prevented another by Miss Fales. Since the installation of the pastor, Rev. A. G. Martin, last November, the Sunday School has doubled its attendance. There are two classes, one Baraca and one Philathea, composed of young men and women, in which there is very great interest, and they will shortly celebrate their anniversary. Mrs. Martin has gathered an interesting class of young girls also.

Rock Spring Water Polluted.

Dr. Charles T. Harper, City Superintendent of Health, a few days ago forwarded to the State Bacteriologist at Raleigh a sample of the water from the Rock Spring, near foot of Chestnut street. In his report of the analysis, the State Bacteriologist says that the water is polluted and is not fit for drinking purposes. This should be sufficient warning to those who have been using this water. A sample of the Clarendon Water Works Company's supply, taken from a faucet by Dr. Harper, was returned and endorsed as good drinking water, free from deleterious substance.

Handsome Yacht in Port.

The handsome steam yacht Alvina, bound from Florida to New York, arrived in port yesterday and will remain here a few days. The Alvina is a steel vessel of 318 net tons register, 180 feet length, 26-foot beam and draws 17 feet of water. She has an indicated horse power of 1,200 and carries a crew of something like 20 men. She was built in Wilmington, Delaware, in 1901 and is owned in New York.

MRS. OLIVIA RUSSELL DEAD.

Mrs. Olivia Russell, relict of the late Daniel L. Russell, Sr., of Brunswick county, died in this city yesterday at 12 o'clock noon. She was born in Washington, N. C., on April 6th, 1826 and was the daughter of Allen Grist, Esq., of that town, who in his day was one of the most prominent men of his section of the State.

Mrs. Russell lived until after the war in Brunswick county at Winnabow, where her family lived in great affluence and there dispensed the most lavish hospitality; and many are the friends who will remember the enjoyment of the ante-bellum days at her home.

Mrs. Russell had lived in Wilmington since 1868, where she has ever been noted for her piety and many Christian virtues, having been all her life a member of the Episcopal church to which she was greatly devoted.

She is survived by her family consisting of Mrs. W. J. H. Bellamy, wife of Dr. W. J. H. Bellamy, of this city, and Mr. Thomas B. Russell and David S. Russell, of Robeson county, and a step son, Ex-Governor D. L. Russell, of Brunswick. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Kennedy, of Uniontown, Ala.; Mrs. Margaret Hoyt, of Washington, N. C., and a brother, Allen Grist, Esq., of Chattanooga, Tenn. She leaves besides a large number of grandchildren and relatives, prominent among the grandsons being Dr. Russell Bellamy and Lindsay Russell, Esq., of New York; William J. Bellamy, Esq., John D. Bellamy, Jr. 3rd., and Dr. Frank H. Russell, of this city.

Services will be conducted at St. James' Episcopal Church at 3:30 P. M. today and the remains will be interred in the family burying ground at Oakdale cemetery.

TRAIN LOCOMOTIVE EXPLODES

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Metuchen, N. J., March 11.—Three men were killed and a number of others hurt and Metuchen was shaken and threatened with many fires today when the boiler of a locomotive on the Pennsylvania Railroad exploded when drawing a freight train through the town. The dead are: William J. Sisher, engineer, of Philadelphia; W. H. Fritche, fireman, Trenton, N. J.; C. S. Smith, brakeman, Trenton, N. J.

The train left Jersey City at 1 A. M. and was passing trough Metuchen under good headway, when, just opposite the railroad station, the boiler of the locomotive exploded. Portions of the boiler were blown two blocks away and tore their way into buildings. The bodies of engineer Sisher and Brakeman Smith were found a hundred yards from the railroad tracks. Many of the freight cars were piled in a heap and several of the train hands were injured, but none seriously.. The broken cars caught fire, but they were soon extinguished.

A portion of the locomotive was blown into Hahn's drug store, tow blocks distant from the track, and another piece of steel entered McCutcheon's pharmacy. Both stores were set on fire simultaneously, but neither was damaged seriously. Miss Daisy aMrtin, telephone operator in the railroad station was thrown from her chair by the explosion and slight injured. The station caught fire, but was not destroyed.

He had no coat upon his back,
But had one on his tongue,
And Rocky Mountain Tea, 'it's said,
Kept him from being hung.

STOMACH TROUBLE

CURED WITHOUT DRUGS

Letter Published by Request of Our Well Known Druggist, R. R. Bellamy.

To the Editor: Believing that the people of Wilmington will be interested in cures by such a simple remedy, we ask you to publish the following for the good it may do others.

Mr. Thomas G. Wallace, of Detroit, Mich., writes: "After having suffered with a severe stomach trouble for years, and trying medicines and doctors without any benefit whatever, I commenced to take Vinol, and I am pleased to state that it has entirely cured me, given me a hearty appetite, and I am stronger and in better health than I have been for years."

Mr. R. R. Bellamy, our local druggist, in referring to Vinol said; "You see Vinol contains all of the healing and strength creating elements of cod liver oil, but without a drop of the useless oil to upset the stomach and retard its work, and tonic iron added.

"Very few people who suffer with stomach trouble can take other forms of cod liver oil and emulsions or sickening drugs, but Vinol strengthens and tones up the weakened nerves of the digestive organs and enables the sufferer to digest with ease the very foods that once caused distress.

"We ask every person in Wilmington suffering from stomach trouble to try Vinol on our guarantee." R. R. Bellamy, Druggist.

NOTE.—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Fall River, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

—The United States Revenue Cutter Seminole has gone for a brief cruise to Charleston, S. C.

HAVE WE SOLD OUT?

NOT YET.

The sale of part of our property on the water front does not affect our business, as we shall continue to use the present warehouses until we can elect new buildings on the Nutt Street front reserved by us.

We therefore solicit orders which will have the same careful attention as heretofore.

—Greensboro is to have another bank, or rather a trust company, and expects to be open for business by the first of May. It is to be known as the Commercial Savings and Trust Company. Its capital stock is $50,000.

—Greensboro, March 9: Last night about nine o'clock as Miss May Tate was on her way home from a trip down town with her small brother, she was robbed by a negro who seized her and wrested her purse from her hand. Miss Tate was badly frightened by the occurrence.

—Lumberton, March 10: William Strickland, Croatan, shot Tom Jones, a Croatan, today at Pembroke. The cause of the trouble, Strickland alleges, was intimacy with his wife. The weapon used was a shotgun, and the load took effect in Jones' foot. Strickland was committed to jail here tonight.

—Asheboro, N. C., March 9.—Upon application of Mrs. Mary A. Ferrell, one of the principal stockholders, the Randleman Chair Company has been placed in the hands of a receiver, Dr. Sumner, of Randleman, was appointed received. Iti s stated that the indebtedness is equal to if not greater than the assets. Mrs. Ferrell is said to be the largest stockholder as well as the largest creditor.

—Raleigh News and Observer, March 10th: Mr. M. N. Hayes was in Raleigh yesterday to secure from Gov. Glenn a requisition for Marshall Davis, who is wanted in Edgecombe county for the murder of Elbert Lewis. Davis and a man by the name of Ennis were arrested in Portsmouth, Va., on the 5th instant. Davis has accused Ennis of the crime and Ennis charged him with being the guilty persons. There seems to be evidence only against Davis.

—Raleigh News and Observer, March 10: A suit, entitled Mrs. Myrtle M. Maxwell, administratrix of S. T. Maxwell vs. Seaboard Air Line Railroad Company, has been instituted in Wake Superior Court. This is a suit to recover to Mrs. Maxwell damages for the death of her husband. Engineer Maxwell, who was killed in a wreck near Marshville on Saturday night, after Christmas. Summons has been issued but the claim has not been entered.

—Tarboro, March 9: Robert Wingate, who was tried here for attempt to commit rape upon a lady of this town was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for five years. The jury was out a very short time. The defendant offered in the beginning of the trial to submit to a simple assault but this plea could not be taken by the State. This crime was committed about a year ago. Wingate left the State, but was captured by his bondsmen and surrendered a week ago to the sheriff.

—It is quite likely that Tom Walker, the negro who killed Chief of Police Chason and Policeman Lockamy, at Fayetteville, will be tried on Monday, March 25th, in the Superior Court of Cumberland county. The State, county and city rewards for the capture of Walker, aggregating $850, have been divided as follows, by agreement of those interested: D. K. Taylor, $400; Henry Lamb and Howard Smith, $100 each; Anderson and Bass, policemen of Dunn, $100 each; railway night operators at Fayetteville and Dunn, $25 each.

—A Fayetteville correspondent writes that he has heard, more than once recently, that a syndicate with ample capital, is contemplating the building of an all-the-year resort hotel on the outskirts of Fayetteville, one of the many beautiful sites for such a purpose. There are no details, but there seems no doubt that the enterprise in in agitation. Fayetteville is the half-way point between New York and Jacksonville, Fla., and such a hotel would attract many guests, without injuring the patronage of the excellent Hotel LaFayette.

—Jonesboro, N. C., March 9.: Friday morning Robert Dalrmple, a farmer near this place, attempted to commit suicide. He left the house, taking his gun and telling his wife that he was going to shoot a hawk. On not returning he was sent for by one of the family, and was found with a bullet hole near his heart. Missing his heart, he took his knife from his pocket and cut his throat. Mr. Dalrymple has been in bad health for a long time, and not getting any better, is supposed to account for the act. He was near fifty years old.

THE COTTON MARKET.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, March 11.—The cotton market was fairly active during yesterday's trading, with prices lower, as a result of liquidation and local bear pressure. The close was steady, at a net decline of 2 to 12 points, lowest on the old crop months. Sales were estimated at 275,000 bales. The opening was steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 4 points, although cables were a shade better than due, and during the late forenoon the market showed a net loss of about 17 to 19 points on the active old crop months, and of about 9 to 11 points on the new crop under heavy Wall Street liquidations, pressure from some of the local bears, and rumors of bull leader was unloading. Around 9.76 for May and 9.74 for July, the market was steadied by covering and buying of the near months by spot people, and after the report of the National Ginners' Association, showing 12,716,000 bales ginned to March 2nd, was received, prices worked up several points from the lowest on some fresh buying for long account and a better demand from shorts. The close was 7 to 9 points up from the bottom and there was some buying on the theory that Liverpool would take a bullish view of the ginning figures in the morning. The local bull leader issued a statement during the day, denying that he was selling through a local house, claiming that he had a moderate line of long cotton on which he expected to realize handsome profit. Weather reports were without influence and receipts continued large. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-8 lower.

Receipts at the ports today were 28,000 bales, against 27,015 last week, and 15,579 last year. For the week 160,000 bales, against 175,433 last week, and 117,286 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 8,083 bales, against 3,190 last year.

Spot cotton closed 10 points lower; middling uplands, 11.35; middling Gulf, 11.60; sales, 6,500 bales.

EVELYN THAW SAVED BY JUDGE

Distrtic Attorney Jerome Was Preparing to Attack Her Life Story.

DAY WAS LEGAL BATTLE

Thaw's Attorney Won on Almost Every Point—Judge's Ruling So Far Has Saved Mrs. Thaw From Further Attack.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, March 11.—On the first day of the State's case in rebuttal of the trial of Harry K. Thaw, District Attorney Jerome today came to a temporary standstill against the practically solid wall, the rules of the evidence have built around the story of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. Mr. Jerome began to attack this story as soon as court opened this morning. There ensued a well nigh ceaseless battle between the prosecutor and Delphin M. Delmas, the leading counsel for the defense, at the end of which Justice Fitzgerald upheld the rule laid down at the beginning of the trial—that young Mrs. Thaw's story was admissible only as tending to show the effect it might have had in unbalancing the defendant's mind, and that its truth or falsity is not material.

Mr. Jerome tried to avoid this rule by declaring he was endeavoring merely to show by inference—by circumstantial evidence as to facts and details in the story—that Mrs. Thaw could not possibly have told the story to her husband. Although he will, doubtless be blocked by the same rule when the time comes, it is said the District Attorney may attempt in the same way to prove an alibi for Stanford White on the night he is alleged to have maltreated young Miss Nesbit.

Nine-tenths of today's sessions were spent in argument, and in nearly every instance when the smoke of conflict cleared away, Mr. Delmas had won his point as to the law, while Mr. Jerome, in the very argument itself had got before the jury a perfect knowledge as to what his witnesses would have testified to had they been permitted. The District Attorney called ten witnesses during the day, but, aside from drawing from the State's eye-witnesses to the tragedy the opinion that Thaw seemed rational the night he shot and killed Stanford White, little real headway was made.

Lining up all of his forces in rebuttal, Mr. Jerome decided to open his fight upon the defense by attacking the story told the jury by Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. He called to the stand Frederick W. Longfellow, formerly an attorney for Thaw, and asked him first concerning the case in which Ethel Thomas is alleged to have sued Thaw for damages because of cruel treatment. Mr. Delmas objected to questions along the line under the professional privilege of lawyer and client, but before Justice Fitzgerald sustained the objection and ruled out the evidence, Mr. Jerome declared: "The story of the girl tied to the bed post and whipped by Thaw is the story of Ethel Thomas. This poor girl is now dead."

Here Mr. Delmas interposed as objection to the District Attorney's remarks, and the latter began an attack along different lines.

He showed Mr. Longfellow the photographic copy of the affidavits Evelyn Nesbit is said to have signed in the office of Abe Hummel, alleging that Thaw treated her cruelly while abroad in 1903, because she "would not tell lies against Stanford White."

Mr. Jerome followed this up by asking the witness if Mrs. Thaw had not turned over to him certain papers to which she had subscribed. Mr. Longfellow said she had. There was a long argument between Mr. Jerome and Mr. Delmas, at the conclusion of which Mr. Longfellow turned his entire examination to naught by declaring that Mrs. Thaw had never shown him a paper similar to the Hummel affidavit in any way. He, thereupon, was excused without cross-examination.

Police officers who saw Thaw the night of the tragedy declared he acted rationally. Many of the witnesses called by the State during the presentation of the case in chief were recalled today. All declared Thaw seemed to them rational.

After the afternoon recess Mr. Jerome called to stand Dr. Rudolph Witthaus, a chemist and expert in poisons. The District Attorney framed a hypothetical question covering Evelyn Nesbit's description of her night with Stanford White in the Twenty-Fourth street studio house, and asked if there was any known poison which would induce insensibility in two minutes and permit of the quick recovery testified to by Thaw's wife.

Around this vital point the storm of argument raged for an hour or more. Mr. Jerome pleaded with Justice Fitzgerald at great length.

Mr. Jerome said he was not attacking the truth of the story. He was calling for an expert opinion to the effect that no known drug would produce the effect testified to by Mrs. Thaw.

When, late in the afternoon, Mr. Jerome called James Clinch Smith, a brother-in-law of Stanford White, to the stand another long argument ensued. Mr. Delmas objected to Mr. Smith's testifying, saying he should have been produced during the presentation of the case in chief. Mr. Jerome said Smith was in Europe when the State's cse first was presented. He threw himself upon the discretion of the court and the matter was pending when adjournment until tomorrow was ordered.

FOREIGN LABOR FOR THE SOUTH

RESULT WAS SATISFACTORY

Attorney General Bonaparte Was Present and Explained His Recent Opinion—President Heyward, of S. I. A., Attended.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, March 11.—South Carolina officials and others interested in the attitude of the Administration towards assisted immigration, held conferences today with President Roosevelt and Attorney General Bonaparte at the White House and with Secretary Straus at the Department of Commerce and Labor. The result of the conferences with the President and Mr. Bonaparte, according to statements made by former Governor D. C. Heyward and Commissioner of Immigration Watson, of South Carolina, was entirely satisfactory to all concerned and the opinion was expressed by Mr. Heyward that according to the explanations made by the government officers, the new immigration law will not deprive the States of any rights conferred by any former laws which may not have been repealed or by the existing law.

Early in the day Messrs. Heyward and Watson had a brief conference with the President. This was followed late in the afternoon by a second meeting, at which, in addition to those named, there were present Attorney General Bonaparte, R. G. Rhett, mayor of Charleston, and Thomas F. Parker, chairman of the immigration committee of the South Carolina Manufacturers' Association. At its conclusion the Attorney General and his visitors said the conference had been a satisfactory one.

Today's conferences grew out of a request to that end made by Mr. Heyward, who, with Mr. Watson, is about to start for Europe to make an effort to secure the permanent establishment of the line of steamers which the North German Lloyd Steamship Company has been operating to Charleston with a view to turning the tide of immigration southward. The opinion of Attorney General Bonaparte rendered last week on the immigration question, they feared, was calculated to upset their plans and the former governor requested that all action in accordance with the Attorney General's opinion be held in abeyance until a meeting could be held. The President promptly granted the request for a conference. At the meeting today the entire matter was reviewed carefully and Mr. Bonaparte explained the exact meaning of his opinion. Mr. Heyward and Mr. Watson explained that the State did not wish to do anything not absolutely legal in securing the immigrants needed in South Carolina. "The result," said Mr. Watson, "is satisfactory to all. We do not feel that the movement for immigration to the South will be retarded in any way as a result of the attitude of the Administration and I am sure that the labor interests will not only not be injured in anyway but will be benefitted."

Former Governor Heyward said regarding the conference:

"The construction of the law as given by the Attorney General today is absolutely satisfactory to the movement for immigration to the South. It has never been the purpose of this movement to bring in contract or cheap labor. The question of the rights or powers of the States as to prepayment of the passage of immigrants will doubtless be set forth later by the Attorney General. It seems certain that the new law will not deprive the States of any rights conferred by the former or present laws. I was very much gratified at the interest shown by the President and all the officials in our movement to up-build the South on practical lines and I feel that they all now have a clearer idea of its economic value to the entire country."

Mr. Watson will sail for Bremen on his official mission tomorrow. Mr. Heyward, who is prevented from accompanying him by the serious illness of his wife, will join Mr. Watson later. P. H. Gadsden, representing the mayor and commercial interests of Charleston, will accompany Mr. Watson tomorrow.

The South Carolinians express the opinion that it will not be necessary to resort to the expedient of assisting immigrants to come South to the extent of more than three or four ship loads. After the line to Charleston is permanently established there and the immigration station authorized by the last Congress is established, they say, immigration will drift to Charleston just as naturaly as it does to the Northern States and be distributed to the States further South.

Tomorrow night the President will hold a conference with Attorney General Bonaparte, Secretary Straus, labor leaders and Southern men interested, in the immigration question.

RAILROADS FEAR HOSTILE WAVE

ANOTHER TO BE HELD

Prominent Men Will Talk Over Drastic Legislation at Future Time. Mr. Garrett Talks of Conditions in the South.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, March 11.—J. Pierpont Morgan, the New York financier, came to Washington in his private car tonight, and went immediately to the White House, where he was in conference with President Roosevelt for more than two hours. The object of Mr. Morgan's visit was to urge the President to take some action to "allay the public anxiety now threatening to obstruct railroad investments and construction."

Mr. Morgan pointed out to the President that the financial interests of the country are greatly alarmed at the attitude of the administration towards corporaions and particularly the railroads.

At Mr. Morgan's earnest request, President Rosevelt has agreed to have a conference with four leading railroad presidents, Messrs. McCrea, of the Pennsylvania; Newman, of the New York Central; Mellen, of the New York, New Haven and Hartford, and Hughitt, of the Chicago and Northwestern, to determine if some agreement can be reached as to the relations between the railroads and the administration. It is probable that E. H. Harriman, head of the Harriman lines, may also participate in the conference which, it is understood, will take place at the White House some time the latter part of this week. After boarding his train shortly after midnight to return to New York, Mr. Morgan dictated to the Associated Press the following statement:

"At the request of many business men, before leaving for Europe, I came to Washington to see the President to discuss the present business situation, particularly as affecting the railroads. I suggested to the President that it would be greatly in the public interests if he would see Mr. McCrea, Mr. Newman, Mr. Mellen and Mr. Hughitt, and confer with them as to what steps might be taken to allay the public anxiety as to the relations between the railroads and the government. The President said he would be glad to see the gentlemen named with this end in view."

B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, had an interview today with President Roosevelt and members of the Interstate Commerce Commission regarding the railroad situation. He told President Roosevelt that the agitation and legislation in various States regarding the two-cent fares and the reduction in freight rates have had the effect of making it almost impossible for the railroads to negotiate loans on their securities and he declared that "The railroad men are willing that the super-roads be centralized in the National government. "That," he added, "would restore confidence and give the people to understand that the railroads wish to observe the laws, and it would stop the hostile legislation in various States."

Mr. Garrett on Situation.

Atlanta, Ga., March 11.—President W. A. Garrett, of the eSaboard Air Line Railroad, who is on a regular inspection trip, in an interview today said the railroads of this country have now reached the financial danger line on account of adverse legislation which has already affected their incomes, and which promises to still further curtail them. Railroads so affected, he said, will not be able to pay their operating expenses, and the interest on their bonds if present conditions coutinue. Mr. Garrett said antagonism of the people was responsible for the conditions. He said the Seaboard had not considered curtailing its train service, but it would be impossible to make any improvements whatever.
